The Michigan Tradesman's correspondent "Bernhard" has the following to say concerning Owosso: "I liked Owosso long before it was my privilege to see it, and seeing it regularly for the last four years has confirmed my very good opinion of it. I think there is no city in the State that has made more rapid progress during that time. The streets used to be quite as deep as they were broad, but recently they have been paved with asphalt, so one is able to get out of town without a forced visit to China. The Wildermuth house is located here and one is sure of something good to eat, there is no place one gets better. To mention the successful grocery dealers is simply to copy that division of the city directory headed "Grocers." There is a casket factory here, but I hope their product will never be utilized by the grocers of Owosso."

The Watchword of Women.

Modesty is woman's watchword. What ever threatens her delicate sense of modes ty, frightens her. For this reason many a woman permits disease of the delicate womanly organs to become aggravated because she cannot bring herself to submit to the ordeal of unpleasant questioning, of- fensive examinations, and obnoxious local treatments, which some physicians find necessary. Doubtless thousands of the women who have taken advantage of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter, have been led to do so by the escape thus offered from a treatment repugnant to modesty. Any sick woman may write to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., in perfect confidence; all letters being treated as strictly private and and sacredly confidential, and all answers being sent in plain envelopes with no ad ver- tising or other printing upon them. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been long hailed as "a Godsend to women." It makes weak women strong and sick women well. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine or other narcotic.

AT THE ALTAR.

Mr. Elgene Van Ness and Miss J. Amanda Davis United in Marriage at the Presby- terian Church in the Presence of Many Friends.

From the Coldwater Courier and Republican.

A most happy and interesting wedding occurred at 3 o'clock Wednesday in the Pres- byterian church, when Rev. H. P. Collin, assisted by Rev. W. T. Lowry, joined in wedlock Mr. Elgene Van Ness and Miss J. Amanda Davis with the beautiful ring ser- vice. Immediately in front of the altar was a transparent arch of evergreen, reach- ing half way to the ceiling, and as wide as the central row of pews. From the arch evergreen chains extended to the chande- llers and also to the church altar, which was made a pure white background covered with evergreen and surmounted by a long line of white chrysanthemums. Palms and foliage plants with delicate chains of green made the scene almost sylvan and was beau- tiful in the simplicity of pure white and green. Mrs. Long played the wedding march from Lohengrin, and the ushers, Messrs. A. E. Robinson, John Starr, Gar- ber Nichols and Arthur Holbrook, marched down the aisle to the altar follow- ed by the attendants, the Misses Mariet Bugie, Bertha Bassett, Ellabeda Spofford, Roline Root, Carrie Chubb and Amanda Warsabo, gowned in white and carrying shower bouquets of evergreen. Mr. Ralph E. Clark was master of ceremonies. The bride leaned upon the arm of her father, Mr. D. H. Davis, and was met at the altar by the groom.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized when the bridal party stood between the evergreen arch and flower covered altar. The bride was gowned in white bengelene silk, en train, trimmed with white tulle and point duchesse lace, wore bridal veil, and carried white chrysanthemums. The groom was in regulation black. No more lovely bride has stood at the altar than Miss Davis, and her beautiful life, placid and bright as a midsummer's day, has been passed among the friends who filled the church, and gathered to express by their presence their love and affectionate good will for one who has always met them with smiles and charmed them by her womanly tenderness. The harmony and melody of her music, which has delighted so many hearts, has been no less pleasing than the harmony and melody of her daily life.

Wishes for her serene happiness will accompany her to her new home in Owosso, by her many friends. She has placed the supreme trust of a bride in the keeping of a man whose boyhood was spent in this city, and whose character is a synonym for integrity, pure mindedness and uprightness, and whose elevating influence is recognized by the church in a marked degree. He holds the creditable position of secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Owosso and was formerly sec- retary here. No reception was held at the house after the ceremony, but relatives and a few intimate friends gathered for an in- formal farewell to the happy couple took the last mail train for Chicago. The bride's going away gown was a tailor-made suit of cadet blue camel's hair cloth. The wedding presents were exquisite and so numerous as to fill an alcove, and consisted of cut glass, silver, china and linen, the af- fectionate remembrances of tried and true friends. The bridal trip will extend from Chicago to Milwaukee, when Mr. and Mrs. Van Ness will return to their future home in Owosso.

Many people are so intent on "grasping all" that they lose strength of nerves, ap- petite, digestion, health. Fortunately, how- ever these may be restored by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has put many a business man on the road to success by giv- ing him good digestion, strong nerves and a clear brain. It does the same thing for weak and tired women.
